PETER MANDEL

The observations and insights of Peter Mandel were the beginning of Esogetic Holistic Medicine. He has worked as a physical therapist and naturopath in Heidelberg and since the early seventies in Bruchsal.

In cooperation with the biophoton researcher Prof. Fritz-Albert Popp he conducted pioneering research in the areas of biophysics and its structural modes of action in the physical body. Prof. Popp managed to prove that cells communicate with each other through light and colors, meaning photons. In 1976 Peter Mandel developed his method of color therapy through colorpuncture. The core concept is the connection between reflex zones on the skin and physical organs. In 1973 he made a huge leap from just a phenomenon to an entire system with the help of the Energetic Emission Analysis (EEA), which was based on the Kirlian photography of the twenties. It enabled him to provide visible and physical validation of his healing technique. Up to the present the diagnostic EEA chart that he consequently developed is our basis for the discovery of each patient's individual causal chain.

His teachings are opening up completely new perspectives in the diagnostic as well as the therapeutic direction. Terms like "Colorpuncture", "pain therapy" or "conflict resolution therapy" have become a fixture of Esogetic Holistic Medicine. Many colleagues, among them physicians and dentists, naturopaths and physical therapists, are practicing these methods. They are using them also as a complement to classical medical and technological medical measures. The close contact with clinics — especially as far as the new pain therapies are concerned — is an important step to a useful, mutually complementary cooperation between new healing methods and classical medicine. In the meantime Esogetic medicine has found a therapeutic clinical place in over 20 countries worldwide and is utilized by more than 20.000 physicians to the benefit of their patients.

IN SHORT: ESOGETIC HOLOSTIC MEDICINE

a complex system of wholistic methods of diagnosis and therapy

Esogetic Medicine is the empirical science, which is based on the original knowledge concerning human existence and the laws of the cosmos. The wisdom teachings of humanity and the most ancient philosophies in connection with modern medical knowledge form a wholistic method of diagnosis and therapy with the goal to maintain health and recognize and treat disease. Today this system is a definite part of a new, humanitarian approach to health. The main concern is the exploration of the inner being, so that a disease can be understood from its cause and a basis for a healthy, harmonious life can be created. The different components of Esogetic Medicine allow for diagnostic and therapeutic combinations, that can be individually tailored to a patient's situation. Preset measures for home use, that accompany the therapy, enhance the cooperation between patient and therapist. New and expanded methods of Esogetic Medicine are developed from our daily practice — not as a total alternative to allopathic and technological medicine, but as a sensible complement. In the meantime we have developed more than 200 therapeutic systems; terms like "pain therapy", "skull somatotopy" or "conflict resolution therapy" are nowadays an integral part of Esogetic Medicine.

Sense and nonsense of sickness and pain Author: Peter Mandel

Esogetics is a combination of esoterics and energetics. Based on the Hermetic precepts, esoterics represents the teachings of the cosmic truths and laws, governing this world, and energetics describes the informative energetic processes of life itself. Through energetics, the spiritual content of esoteric wisdom is manifest on the physical plane. Esogetics teaches there is a sense and nonsense to sickness and pain by presenting a path that can, via the physical body, influence human existence in a holistic way and further an active process of realization. In his book, Peter Mandel presents these thoughts in an understandable and convincing way, corroborating them with both practical examples and clear instructions for therapeutic treatment. THERAPY SUCCESS WITH ESOGETIC HOLISTIC MEDICINE the holistic screening evaluation and therapy

At the beginning of the clinical visit stands the Energy Emission Analysis (EEA). The interpretation of the EEA picture gives us an idea about the patient's physical, emotional and mental state and allows us to recognize the causal connections between symptoms and their origin. Once all the information provided by the EEA has been evaluated and a diagnosis has been determined, then a test therapy is conducted to establish the patient's capacity and manner of reaction. An EEA control picture shows the "before – after situation" in a direct comparison. Then the final therapy is chosen, like for instance a special therapy like colorpuncture. Aside from that Esogetic Medicine also offers a multitude of supportive therapies, like for instance Induction Therapy. At the end of a therapy the control of the therapeutic progress is checked via the EEA.

Esogetic Medicine encompasses diagnosis, therapy, control, adjunct therapy and prevention all in one. All systems can be mixed and matched. After all each patient has the justifiable right of individualized and optimized care.

ENERGY EMISSION ANALYSIS (EEA)

This diagnostic method, which is based on energy and information, shows the distribution density of surface charges at the fingertips and toes of both hands and feet photographically in a Kirlian picture. An exact diagnostic protocol and the EEA topography make it possible to recognize energetic structures and to identify pathological developments already in the pre-stage of somatic dysfunction. The EEA is a logical, reproducible and entirely risk-free diagnostic method, which by its detailed analysis of energetic regulatory disturbances allows a quick comprehension of the patient's overall situation. It also provides medically relevant statements and a reliable control of the therapeutic process. That makes it possible to demonstrate and track any change in the health status, for instance during or after a treatment.

EEA Photon-Scan

The EEA informative-energetic analysis method developed by Peter Mandel, in which the biophoton emissions from fingertips and toe tips are photographed, topographically analysed and phenomenologically interpreted.

The measurable energy status provides an indication of the energy situation.

The EEA is a conclusive, reproducible analysis system that allows relevant statements to be made about energy regulation disorders through a differentiated view and is an important building block in Esogetic Medicine, especially in colour puncture according to Peter Mandel.

Advantages of the EEA Photon Scan for the Modern Treatment Room:

- The EEA Photon Scan is perfectly aligned with Esogetic Medicine, yet it may be combined with other procedures as well.
- The measurement of the biophoton emission produces a reproducible energetic differential finding as an addition to standard medical diagnosis.
- Background, connections and causes may therefore be discerned earlier and allow a much more individualized understanding.
- Recognition of psychosomatic connections.
- The procedure is easy, fast and comfortable.
- · Very cost efficient: small overhead.

COLORPUNCTURE

The colorpuncture of Esogetic Medicine is a therapeutic system that addresses a person's individual needs by utilizing special colors, shades of gray and infrared light. Traditional Chinese medicine and classical color indications are combined with the newest results of research. Peter Mandel has expanded this system and added to it newly discovered acupuncture points, skin zones and nuances of color resp. gray. Now colorpuncture resembles a communication network, which creates a harmonizing regulation of information in the form of pure vibrational energy, wherever the cause of the stress can be found. The many layers of this most important therapeutic method within the entire system allow a sensitive treatment, which includes all levels of the body and consciousness.

COLOR SURFACE THERAPY

The treatment of a surface area with color is an easily learnt tool to support one's well-being and is a way to responsibly deal with one's own health. The color stroking is conducted broadly in certain body areas resp. reflex zones. One of the most important advantages of this gentle method for everybody is, that it can be used at home and on the road in a simplified version as self-treatment, for instance as an adjunct therapy.

Perlux F 333 for surface radiation

The colorpuncture set for simple surface radiation in the office, at home and on the road consists of a grid-independent color surface pen (battery or rechargeable) and seven lenses red, orange, yellow, green, turquoise, blue and violet. With user's manual in a practical box.

Dream yourself free! Activation of Dreams with Symbols Author: Peter Mandel

That dreams are not "ten a penny", but rather messengers of our nunconscious, is na fact. In spite of all the research and interpretations, however, we have not yet been able to track down their essential purpose. This book should change that. Peter Mandel, founder of Esogetic Medicine, whose teachings have been known and successfully employed worldwide for several decades already, has now discovered with the Dream Set a way of not only remembering dreams, but also a way of making it possible to arrange them in order. It is a path that leads directly to the centre of the "I". His goal, which he shares with all dreamers: navigating and understanding dreams. It is not about the describing of symbols and visions, but rather about the true nature of dreams. It is also about their relationship with our experiences, perceptions, burdens and desires. A fascinating book and a "dreamy" journey, for all of those who seek to understand their dreaming entity for what it actually is: an important aspect of our reality.

I Ching Set – The Playful I Ching or the Oracle on the Skin and 64 I Ching Cards Author: Peter Mandel

The tradition of the I Ching, also called "The Book of Change", belongs to the spiritual inheritance of humanity. Especially nowadays, in a time of worldwide paradigm shift, it has become more important than ever to remember the lunar abilities that every human being possesses. In his book "The Playful I Ching" Peter Mandel enters completely new territory. His development combines the ancient I Ching oracle with zones on the skin, which he has described in exact detail. Each of the 64 hexagrams of the I Ching has a clearly defined position on the surface of the skin, is drawn there and then treated with the appropriate media. Many years of research and practical application in the clinic have repeatedly shown the impressive effectiveness. Softcover, 220 pages with a set of 64 I Ching cards

The name results from the fact that this massage rod with the small crystal shows an effect on all the points on the skin that are relevant for therapy. In the meantime many people all over the world have taken up treating themselves according to defined zones and points. The round head of the rod is designed for a targeted massage of the points and the crystal is touched to the zone in question for 10 to 15 seconds after the massage of the points. PAIN THERAPY WITH SPECIFIC INFRARED FREQUENCIES

The treatment with incoherent infrared light is an effective method without side-effects to treat pain quickly and with lasting results. The infrared light is introduced into the body through the 147 converter points, skull somatotopies or the 60 points of auricular acupuncture — with a twofold effect: on one hand a focused, quick pain treatment is possible through specific reflex zones, on the other hand a connection with subconscious imbalances is established.

The infrared pen IR 950 is a practical therapeutic instrument, always at the ready, and can be handled easily and reliably. The set consists of the Perlux – IR – 950 pen and a point locator probe. The convenient box contains a user's manual.

THERAPY WITH SPECIFIC ULTRAVIOLET FREQUENCIES

The inclusion of infrared frequencies in Esogetic colorpuncture consequently led to the development of the opposite "outer" pillar of the spectrum: the UV radiation. These two invisible outer borders share the third pillar as a connecting link – the visible realm of the nanometer scale. Going by experience the middle of the visible spectrum seems to be extremely important for the treatment of anything living. Whereas the complementary color therapy of the middle pillar is nowadays considered to be the activation instrument for the entire spectrum, the areas of infrared and ultraviolet have been assigned specific tasks. The UV therapy at the nanometer range of 370 nm forms the mental pillar of the light. Through defined skin areas we are able to very specifically stimulate or organize the information process (mind) in the living substance. Like regular light UV obeys the laws of bending, refraction, reflection and – important for therapy – interference. Due to the frequency UV carries a higher energetic charge than the visible light and also has a stronger capacity to penetrate matter more deeply.

Perlux UV 370 – Ultraviolet Colorpuncture Set

The ultraviolet pen UV 370 can be basically used anywhere and at any time as a reliable therapeutic instrument and is easy to handle. An in-built pulse shape generator creates physiological frequency patterns, which the organism can understand more easily. These are repetitive technical frequencies of the purest caliber.

CRYSTALS: RELAXATION, REST AND WELL-BEING

From the "pure" crystal to the therapeutic medium

Through an extensive special process we developed therapeutic crystals with a specifically focused information: the crystal activator and the facetted crystals to apply to specific skin areas and the small crystal tattoos for crystal puncture.

The pure crystals have been enriched with the holographic archetypal patterns of the Earth hologram by cutting and engraving. This hologram corresponds to the interference patterns relating to the body as they are anchored in the individual.

Crystal Activators

Three crystal activators have been developed up to the present day. All three have a special affinity to the information contained in the flowing energy, which stimulates vibration in our cells, organs and systems and maintains them. This hypothesis is the result of treating many healthy and sick people.

- 1. At the tip of the upper illustration we find the "light or color activator" (as Peter Mandel has named it). As there is no life without light and the colors contained in it, the mode of function of this crystal is related to the light activity on our skin.
- 2. The clear (white) crystal activator deals with the light transfer from the outside to the inside. It works specifically through defined zones of the skin and contributes to the regulation of weakened light and information quality in the inner space of a person.
- 3. The black crystal activates the inner light in the cells and thus influences the blocked light transfer from the inside towards the outside, for instance in acute and chronic pain.

Facetted Crystals of the elements

Everything that exists in this dimension derives from the four elements, including human life. They are incessantly active inside of us and we find ourselves constantly in the middle of the permanent tension that these elements generate.

The following assignments apply for the four elements:

The Air Element: Turquoise - Order no. 1821

The air element connects our internal world with the divine like none of the other elements. Its essence are movement and freedom, variety of interests, art and esthetics. Its opposite pole are superficiality, inner division, permanent stress and restlessness.

The Earth Element: Lightgreen – Order no. 1822
Earth is combining all four elements in itself. It is slow, patient and steady. The earth element corresponds to the striving for inner harmony, respect, diligence, need for security and solidity. But there also can be the "other" side: inner rigidity, holding on to things and people, the "inability to let go".

The Fire Element: Crimson - Order no. 1823

The first element represents the masculine aspect: power, wrath, rage, psychological readiness to fight – but also love as the "fire of the heart", excitement, feelings that are expressed outwardly, insight and comprehension.

The fourth element belongs to the motherly-feminine principle. It symbolizes the flow of our impulses, security, inner strengths and the search for spirituality. On the other hand it can represent suppressed intuition and denied creativity.

Set of four with the element crystals crimson, lightgreen, turquoise, rose:

Facetted Crystals Gray

In the early 90's Peter Mandel started to experiment with "gray light". Moved by Prof. Gerhard Heuss' concepts and talks with Prof. F.A.Popp he introduced the term "gray patterns".

The three new gray crystals create on a high level the option to introduce balancing impulses in regards to polar disturbances. They also often can help break up rigid structures of physical functions and their connected chronic disease processes through specific assignments.

Dream Disc (Disc of Light)
Order no. 1901

From what we know today, dreams can be understood as a mediator between the conscious and the unconscious. Peter Mandel's observations show that certain types of strain or stress are often accompanied by certain types of dreams. A long time ago already, Peter Mandel tried to retrieve the images of the night and transfer them into consciousness by using 'dream-creation' zones. Today, there are clearly defined esogetic zones, the stimulation of which can promote specific dreams. Nowadays this technique is used by many people, who want to deliberately activate their dreamwork.

The book Dream Yourself Free" is available seperately as well (see also page 12).

Heart Disc (Disc of Love)

Symbolically, the human heart is linked to sentiments and feelings such as affection, kind-heartedness, devotion and love, which are anchored deep within our hearts.

All these terms describe the "wholeness and uniqueness" of our being. The Disc of the Heart allows us to recognize and feel this. In this manner, we are able to sense changes in our lives that have within them the quality of peace and "the gathering of one's thoughts". Many troubles caused by our environment, such as stress or aggression, are lessened or remedied.

Order no. 1961

Earth Disc (Disc of Life)

After the Dream Disc (Disc of Light) and the Heart Disc (Disc of Love) Peter Mandel has now developed the Earth Disc (Disc of Life). The concept of this disc is based on sacred geometry and its associated "Flower of Life". If we want to tune into the vibrations of higher worlds, we need media that enable us to do so. The vibration, as it pertains to the cell, is the prerequisite for life. Once that vibration stops the flow of information between the cells is distorted or nullified. Thus the Disc of Life is the optimal medium to reactivate the communication of the body cells. The Earth Disc does not have a specific indication. As it is assigned to the body and thus to the cellular consciousness, it relates to blockages of all cellular structures. The application of this disc is particularly geared to the segmental zones of the body and is able to resolve blockages gently.

Disc of the Signs

In his creation of the Disc of the Signs Peter Mandel has used the signs of the zodiac in a modified version. The special feature of this disc is the individualized relationship to every single human being, through the selection of the sign.

Applied in case of a disease or some persistent complaints the Disc of Signs contacts the inner blockages, and the treated individual often perceives an immediate reaction. That helps us to notice and understand the underlying background of a disease much faster.

During days of health the disc supports our well-being and assists us in completing the daily tasks.

Each Disc is a unique product with its own number, a personally signed certificate by Peter Mandel and an extensive user's manual for application.

The disc of the numeric symbols

This disc of the numeric symbols refers to the myth of the numbers and assigned symbolism. Nine numbers are being described which have a connection to the nine symbols that have their fixed place on the skin's hologram. Peter Mandel describes these zones as "matrix regulators" like all the other reflex areas that have been found there and he explains that the life of humans can be impacted by these zones.

THE SOUNDSCAPE THERAPY PROGRAM

Buch: Hör dich frei Autorin: Gitte Henneges

A basic feeling for musical structures is inborn, even if some-body considers himself unmusical. Modern brain research states: We are highly sensitive for sounds. "Wrong" music causes our brain to "flinch". However, the "right" sounds make us relax, support and comfort us in a very effective and sustainable way. To free yourself with sound" — this means to regain your mental and physical balance by listening to the "right" sound sequences.

Conflict Resolution

This series of CDs is based on the conflict resolution therapy of colorpuncture. Gentle regulatory impulses directly affect the blockages and carefully lead towards their dissolution. "Conflict resolution" is an instrument for treatment, as well as a lifelong supportive companion — a tool to overcome difficult life situations and to recognize and resolve old, disease inducing patterns. Each CD is about 40 minutes long

The different titles of the conflict resolution are:

Cone of memory – Resolution of blockages – Letting go –

Energy increase

All four CDs form a logical sequence. Blockages cannot be resolved, unless we first remember the causes (and that is by the way happening in the subconscious – where the conflicts have hidden themselves). By the same token we can only let go, when we have worked towards a resolution, and finally an increase in energy is only possible, when we are remembering conflicts or disease inducing patterns in the depth of our consciousness, recognize the blockages, resolve them and are letting them go. Therefore always listen to the CDs in their proper sequence and in combination with one another.

Only available as a set of four.

Color-Soundscape Therapies

Soundscapes

This series of nine CDs has been developed according to exact mathematical and therapeutic parameters. It mostly deals with subconscious not yet manifested problems and stresses. The soundscapes are a step-by-step non-verbal regression towards an individual's original, natural and therefore functioning state. You can listen to the soundscapes individually by theme or in the given order, because they build on each other. Each CD lasts about 40 minutes.

No. 1: Balance (Order no. 8410)

It improves the ability to accept life as an eternally changing process. Balance results and the old can be let go of, while the new is invited.

No. 2: Regeneration (Order no. 8420)

This soundscape supports and strengthens all mental processes which have to do with regeneration, restoration and reorientation. It can also facilitate physical rejuvenation.

No. 3: Self-Confidence (Order no. 8430)

The pursuit of happiness, contentment and harmony are anchored as a "basic principle" in every human being. This piece supports this goal by directing us towards our essential core.

No. 4: Vitality (Order no. 8440)

The sound sequences of this soundscape assist us in accessing new insights and developing the strength to actualize them.
